Robert Hardy Building,
Bishop Grosseteste
University, LN1 3DY

Keynote Speakers:

Dr Nicola Mason
Headteacher
School 21

Juliette Cammaerts
Director of Policy, Planning and Delivery, Children's Commission

A day conference for teachers and school leaders, carers, social workers, parents and all other children's support workers and managers- indeed, for anyone who cares about children's wellbeing.

This is a rare opportunity to be challenged and inspired by two internationally recognised leaders in the field of education, and to hear from young people themselves.

Cost: Free

Book your place by midnight Friday 16th June at:

Our Speakers:

Dr Nicola Mason

Nicola is the Headteacher of School 21, which has a commitment to innovative practices and to changing the shape of education in the UK. Following training and teaching in England, Nicola became Head of Secondary School at Garden International School in Kuala Lumpur. She then became the head at St Julian's School in Lisbon, Portugal, a British International school with an inclusive, holistic approach to education.

Juliette Cammaerts

Juliette has been Director of Policy, Planning and Delivery at the Children's Commissioner's Office since April 2021. Prior to taking up this post, she worked in various roles in the Department for Education, including Private Secretary to the Children and Families Minister and Deputy Principal Private Secretary to the Secretary of State. Juliette is interested in child- and family-focused public services and how to involve children in designing and implementing policies.

HSE

Human Scale Education is an education movement committed to small scale learning communities based on the values of democracy, justice and respect. HSE works directly with schools and parents to promote human scale learning environments where children and young people are known and valued as individuals. HSE believes that 'humanity of scale' and the 'primacy of relationships' should not only inform the design of our schools but should also influence our public sector services.

HSE in the East Midlands

HSE has an active group of supporters in the East Midlands, including teachers, lecturers, local authority staff and private consultants. This is the seventh such conference organised by this group.
